Court Agrees To Hear Vote Case On Indians

The Utah Supreme Court has agreed to hear a test case to determine whether or not an Indian residing on a reservation has a right to vote.

The action was filed on behalf of Preston Allen, vice president of the Affiliated Ute Citizens of Utah, composed of former members of the Ute Indian Tribe of the Uintah and Ouray Reservation in Utah.

This group lost membership in the tribe, except for certain property rights, under a federal law providing for termination of the interest of mixed-blood Indians.

Mr. Allen had voted at previous elections. He is a veteran of World War II and a livestock raiser and small farmer in Duchesne County.

Atty. Gen. Joseph Chez gave an opinion Oct. 25, 1940, under which Mr. Allen and other Indians in similar circumstances were permitted to vote.

On March 23, 1956, Atty. Gen. E. R. Callister reserved this ruling. He held that Indians living on reservations are not entitled to vote as provided by Section 20-2-14 of the Utah Code.

Mr. Allen sought to obtain an absentee ballot from the Duchesne County clerk Sept. 8, but was refused.

Chief Justice Roger I. McDonough set a special hearing on the case for Oct. 8 in order to facilitate a decision before the general election Nov. 6.

FAIRYLAND SHAPES—New fantasy is evident in Fairyland at Utah State Training School in American Fork. Here is a bright green beanstalk, complete with yellow beans. The pumpkin in background is painted orange.

To Delight Children

Fairyland Shaping Up At Training School

AMERICAN FORK — Jack's Beanstalk is up. The little red schoolhouse is under way and the Toonerville depot is shaping up in steel.

Specialists from Geneva Steel Plant are giving their free time to Fairyland now under construction at American Fork Training School.

Earlier stories in the Deseret News and Salt Lake Telegram told of the Pied Pyper who will greet the children to Fairyland. He stands tall as the trees and is painted in bright colors.

The new beanstalk is tall as the storybook says and is painted bright green with long yellow string beans dangling.

The pumpkin where Peter kept his elusive wife is now painted bright orange and has a crooked chimney.

Denver & Rio Grande workmen in Salt Lake City, report the Toonerville Trolley is almost ready to tote passengers through Fairyland.

The railroad company is donating its services to rebuilding the locomotive which was used formerly on hospital playgrounds.

In addition, the railroad is building three Toonerville Trolley cars for the train.

Myron Strate, assistant division superintendent of maintenance and utilities at Geneva, is committee chairman for the humanitarian project which will delight the 1,180 children at the Utah State Training School. Eventual plans call for opening the park to all children.
